MARSH MUD MADNESS

KEY CONCEPTS: ecosystems, habitats, musical arts, energy flow

"Roger Day creates vivid images of the marsh and its inhabitants - including the marine biologists - in songs with titles such as I Love to Study Mud and Alligator in My Refrigerator. It's both funny and educational."

- David Bryant, Georgia Sea Grant

"An engaging science lesson with a toe-tapping beat."

- Christian Science Monitor

GET YOUR BRAIN IN GEAR!

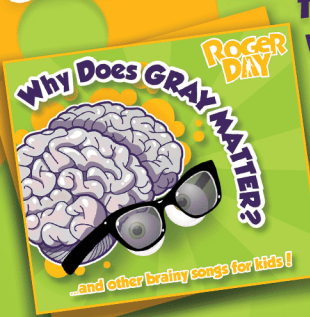

"Schoolhouse Rock Meets Bill Nye the Science Guy"

The New York Times says "Mr. Day wants his young listeners to get their thinking caps on." Meet Sara Bellum who fearlessly solves the most complicated problems; ride the Brain Train at the blazing speed of thought, avoid the dreaded Brain Freeze, then use these powerful new tools to Build a Better World.

KEY CONCEPTS: scientific inquiry, musical arts, problem-solving

Keynote Address

Keys to Success!

Roger Day is often asked to deliver keynote performances at early childhood and elementary educational conferences. These 45-60 minute keynotes combine entertaining music and best practices for including music in an integrated curriculum providing teachers with inspiration for teaching a variety of lessons with music. Roger is available for teacher workshop sessions as well.

"Roger Day is an AMAZING keynote speaker! Energize your teaching staff (AND parents) with a joyful and interactive presentation exploring the magic of early childhood, the importance of imagination, and the love of music!"

- Jan Sarratore
